RESUMÉ

EXPERIENCE:

September 2009 - Present

jeremymitchell.com

Owner, Art Director, Designer, Front-end Developer, UI developer and Video Producer. Interactive company specializing in web, branding, marketing, video and photography. I started doing freelance in 2004 and went full time freelance successfully in 2009. By owning my own company, I have learned how to run a business, work better with clients, form teams, manage contractors, meet real deadlines and how to balance life and work. Since the start, I have grown so much as a person and a business man.

May 2010 - Present

Gallerytopia, LLC

Co-owner, Co-creator, Creative Director, Designer, UI Developer and Promoter.

Online service that creates mobile websites for photographers and artists.

My wife and I started Gallerytopia.com in May 2010. We saw a need in the mobile website industry in regards to photographers and we went for it. This has been a really fun project to work on and none like any other. Being both owner and creator, I have learned a great lesson in business and patience.
